NEWS RELEASE
ANTI-AGING CLINIC

Orillia's Anti-Aging Clinic was recently awarded as a Centre of Excellence from Sofwave, the globally emerging medical technology for skin tightening and lifting.

The awards were presented in Toronto on Friday, Dec. 1, 2023 at the Shangri-La hotel hosted by XCITE Tech, the Canadian distributor of Sofwave.

Winners of the Centre of Excellence awards are chosen by the volume of treatments clinics perform and were shared among various doctors and plastic surgeons from across Canada.

Sofwave, developed in Israel, uses a new-generation, non-invasive ultrasound technology to naturally stimulate collagen, elastin and hyaluronic acid with no down time, redness or irritation.

Treating facial areas like the brows, cheeks and jowls creates lifting up to five centimetres, not possible before without intervention with fillers, neurotoxins or threads. Sofwave is also Health Canada approved for reducing wrinkles, acne scars as well as cellulite.

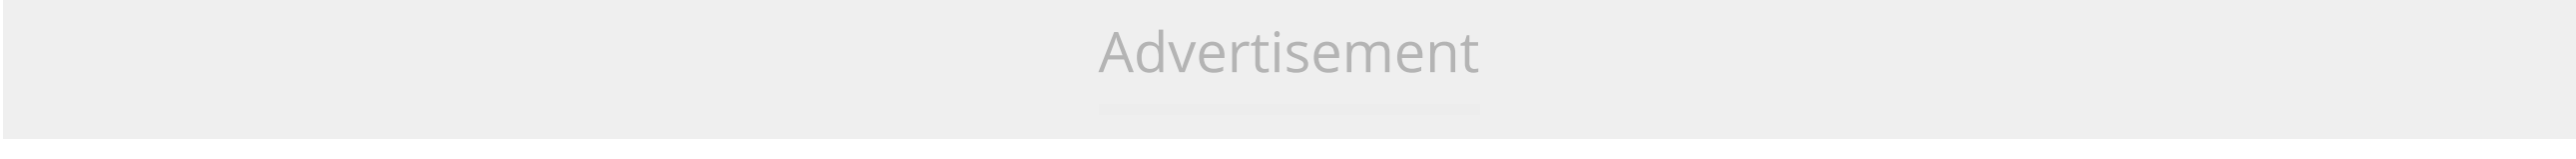

The results from a quick single Sofwave treatment usually last around a year.

As leaders in medical esthetics, the multi-award-winning Orillia clinic introduced Sofwave in October of 2022, becoming one of the first providers in Ontario.

With only 15 awarded Sofwave Centres of Excellence across Canada, clinic owners Blade and Ben Tiessen are ecstatic to bring one home to Orillia.

“We feel it’s a major win for us as well as our loyal patients and Orillia to be honoured among a handful of top medical esthetic clinics across the country,” add the Tiessens.

The Anti-Aging Clinic also celebrated its 23rd anniversary on Dec. 1, 2023, making the awards event extra special.
